Cambridge Opportunity Business Center

Project Overview

Anderson Development is pleased to introduce Cambridge Opportunity Business Center, located in one of Minnesota’s newest and most “development ready” industrial parks in the city of Cambridge, Minnesota.

The Project is planned as a multi-phased industrial center comprising over 250,000 square feet of industrial buildings when complete. Plat and site plan approvals for Phase I were completed in 2006, and the site is ready for building construction to begin in early 2007.

About the Project

The multi-phase site development plan offers the option for industrial users to select one of three primary site locations. Building Site A has received city approvals for construction of up to 96,000 sq ft. offering the latest in industrial building design, efficiency and function. Twenty-four (24) foot interior clear heights, ample drive-in and dock loading, and 32X40 foot bay dimensions will offer industrial and manufacturing companies flexibility and adaptability for changing space demands.

The buildings will suit small or large, single or multi-tenant requirements, and can be designed to accommodate specific tenant requirements prior to construction.
